John D. Rockefeller is now telling his history. It will prove disappointing, however, to the man who expects to learn how to become a multi-millionaire without working for his money.

Don't be too prone to moralize from the stories you see in print until you have verified them.

Is there anything at all that can be said in favor of the primary law as it now exists?

At any rate, Stone got nearly all of the good Democratic counties.

Hetherington and Monilaw, Ping-pong Artists. Rates reasonable.

Wentworth beat Kemper Thursday because it was well coached. Missouri should take notice.

Since there is no more football to write about we can devote more attention to the theatrical attractions.

We could be thankful at least for the weather Thursday.

It seems that Robert W. Chambers, the author, after making his reputation is now working off his old manuscripts on the unsuspecting public. He must get a fancy figure for his stuff, too.

It is emphatically denied that the former Miss Anna Gould is about to sue her husband, Prince Helie de Sagan, for divorce. It may be a year or two before she takes that step.

Those who saw the game in Kansas City Thanksgiving say that the Missouri men put up the greatest individual work ever seen in this section; but team work was lacking and in the second half the men were winded.
If such is the case the indications are that Dr. Monilaw is neither a coach nor a trainer. Missouri by this time ought to be big enough to get a coach with an established reputation. The Experiment Station is all right as a testing place for seed corn and cow feed; but it should be no longer a place to perform experiments on obscure young men's ability as foot ball coaches.

The Gang All Went.

Fourteen people went to Kansas City via the Wabash from Lexington Wednesday afternoon; eight went by the Missouri Pacific that night; twenty-six went by the Missouri Pacific Thursday morning. They went to see the Missouri-Kansas game and the crowd incident thereto.

They found a large sized bunch when they got to the city in various stages of intoxication. The women of course were intoxicated merely from excitement; but the men for the most part had something more substantial.
All of one type was the feminine element. Some of the ladies were old and some young and some of uncertain age; but they were all well dressed, smiling, decorated and fair to look upon. There are no four-flushers among the women at a football game.

With the men it is different. To read the Kansas City papers one would think that all of them present the appearance of an L Systemed even to the bull-dog. There are maybe one or two bull-dogs and possibly a hundred men clad in extreme clothes; but really they do not predominate.
There are also many thin-nosed, be-speckled, stoop-shouldered, old-looking young individuals who represent the class called grinds. You can discern also a quantity of ordinary looking individuals whose appearance indicates nothing, but who give the college yells properly and occasionally sing a song about their alma mater correctly and who may therefore be designated as mere commonplace students. Another type is the adulterated spectator who comes merely to see the game and is not at all interested in the game and is not at all unostentatious a way possible.

But the predominating class in con-spicuity, not numbers consists of the youths with long hair, parted in the middle, unpressed clothes, yellow teeth, cheap neckties which fit poorly the dirty collars. The lad of this type wears long streamers of ribbon and tilts his stored in derby on the back of his head. He is loud of mouth and strong of breath. He puts his arm around your neck and pokes his face within an inch of yours as he offers to bet a thousand dollars that Kansas will win or that Missouri will score, according to whether he is from Hiawatha, Kansas, or Marysville, Missouri. He mentions the members of his favorite team by their given or nick-names and at frequent occasions emits an imitation of a college yell. He carries a real or simullated jag and never hesitates to make himself disgustingly prominent in any bunch. Possibly he gets to shake hands with a player, so that when he returns home he can tell his friends about his distinguished acquainttanceship. It is his day and he takes the town. If you don't believe it go next year and see.

This article started out to be news item. So let's get back to the subject.
Kansas won ten to four. Forget it.
The Lexington people who saw the game returned, without particular adventure with a bad taste in their mouths, figuratively speaking, on account of the fact that the game turned out like everybody said it would.

I have found California to be an ideal winter resort. Thousands of other persons have made the same discovery. Ideal for those who wish to be secure against winter's chilling blasts, its snows, its discomforts.

There flowers bloom, birds sing and fruits ripen at a season when here the reverse is true.

For persons desiring to play golf, fish, swim, go boating, automobileing, or indulge in other outdoor sports during the winter, or gain or retain health, California's the place.

I've traveled over the Santa Fe and know a great deal about it. I always recommend it to my friends who want the best.
This shows my confidence in Santa Fe service.

I know California and the Grand Canyon of Arizona like a book, and am competent to give full information about the trip, the climate, and what to do after reaching there.

DOUGH MIXING

is a job a baker dislikes because it is hard work, but it has to be done, we have just placed in our shop a dough mixer. Which mixes the dough better making a nice loaf of bread. It is much cleaner than any man can mix as there is no perspiration to come in contact with the dough. If you want a good loaf of bread cleanly made call for Stalling Bros. at your grocer.
